ABOUT

We are an integrated public relations, content marketing and branding firm focused on the asset management, fintech, impact investing and private equity and venture capital industries.

Building Brands

We help companies build unique brands through research, positioning, design, and integrated, content-driven public relations and marketing programs.

Telling Stories

The heart of our mission is helping our clients tell their stories. As a specialist in working with financial services firms, we have a deep understanding of the industry and are able to help clients identify and articulate their key differentiators and value propositions.

Driving Growth

We utilize our in-depth industry knowledge, experience and connections to execute strategic communications programs that help our clients meet their objectives of building strong brands and driving growth.

ASSET MANAGEMENT

BackBay partners with investment companies and wealth management firms to create strategic PR and thought leadership programs that support their ability to attract assets, increase client satisfaction, and build brand value.

We help companies refine their messages and raise visibility, credibility and understanding of their approach to socially responsible investing through media relations, thought leadership, social media and events.

We develop integrated public relations and marketing communications programs to help firms achieve the following objectives:
